

Money Word Fun

There are lots of new words when talking about money. These next activities will give you a chance to get to know some of those words better.

A. 'Say What?' Game

Play this game with at least one other person. If you have enough people, make teams.

- Cut out the slips below. Each is a money word and its definition. Fold the slips in half and put them into a bowl.
- Take turns taking one of the slips out of the bowl. You can read it, describe it, or act it out. Try to get the other person or the rest of your team to guess what it is in three tries.
- Keep playing until all the slips have been used.

Money Things like coins and bills that are used to pay for things, or to pay someone for their work	Expense Something you have to pay for from the money you have
Bank A place that looks after people's money for them	Spending To use money to pay for something
Fundraise To collect money for something, such as helping people, a charity or school	Divide To split something into two or more parts or pieces
Income Money that comes in is called income. Most people get income from a job, but it can also come from gifts, allowance, or by doing chores

B. Words are power! Build your understanding of money words by using the clues to fit the money word they describe into the crossword. Need some help? Use the Money Word slips from Part A.

Across Clues

- 2 Money that comes in. Most people get it from a job, but it can also come from gifts, allowance, or by doing chores
- 4 To collect money for something, such as helping people, a charity or school
- 6 A place that looks after people's money for them
- 7 Something you have to pay for from the money you have

Down Clues

- 1 To split something into two or more parts or pieces
- 3 Things like coins and bills that are used to pay for things, or to pay someone for their work
- 5 To use money to pay for something